Analog world

Where to start: Start with a conversation about how you've interacted with the internet so far today. Talk about some of the ways people used to do some of the things we now rely on the internet for, such as research, shopping, sharing news with friends, watching movies, and learning.

Prompt: What would happen if the internet disappeared?

How to go deeper: Would you want to take a break from the internet for one week? Why or why not? (Use the back of this page to write.)
