

Invisible kids

Where to start: This exercise gets kids to stretch their imaginations and their narrative writing skills. Start with a conversation about the power to disappear or be invisible. Can you think of a book or a movie where this happens? What did they do?

Prompt: What is the first thing you would do if you suddenly became invisible?

How to go deeper: Would you want to be invisible? Why or why not? What are some of the things that could go wrong? (Use the back of this page to write.)
