

Secret place

Where to start: Tree houses and clubhouses – private, secret hideaways where kids rule – are a popular fantasy in children’s books. Start with a conversation about tree houses they know from books or movies.

Prompt: Describe the ultimate tree house. What would you do inside? Who would you invite in? How do you get in and out?

How to go deeper: Draw your tree house and label its different features. (Use the back of this page to draw.)
